

We should not lose a single human life to nuclear weapons.

Should we eradicate or continue creating nuclear weapons? Humanity has yet to agree on the answer to this question. Both sides have something invaluable to protect, and both have valid reasons supporting their beliefs. That's why the issue is so incredibly sensitive. However, there is one thing we should all agree on. We should not lose a single human life to nuclear weapons. Not now, not ever. Today, Hiroshima Television Corporation would like to share two documentaries with the world in the hopes that they will help humanity reach a consensus on this extremely divisive issue. August 5th (August 6th in Japan) marks the first time in human history that an atomic bomb was used.

人は、核で死んではならない。

拡大か。縮小か。核という問題に、私たち人類はまだ答えを出せていない。どの立場にも守るべきものがある。それぞれの正義がある。だから難しい。ただ、ひとつだけ言えることがある。人は、核で死んではならない。絶対に、ならない。広島テレビは今日、特別番組を世界に公開します。世界中の人々と、その思いをひとつにできたなら、これにまさる喜びはありません。8月5日(日本時間で8月6日)は、人類が初めて原子爆弾を使用した日です。

• US POWs and the A-bomb

This documentary shares the stories of 12 American soldiers who lost their lives when the atomic bomb was dropped on Hiroshima.

• Carved in Stone

A record of the 321 students who were directly below the atomic bomb dropped on Hiroshima.
